NEGRO CHILD'S FATAL BURNS.

Clothing Ignited While Dressing by a Grate Yesterday Morning.

BURNED ALL OVER.

Injuries Pronounced Almost Necessarily Fatal by Dr. Woodard.

A negro child named James Oten was probably fatally burned yesterday morning at an early hour, in a cabin on 15th street between Virginia and Clay. The boy is about ten years old and while dressing in front of a grate his clothing caught on fire. He ran screaming out into the street and lay writhing on the ground until all of his clothing had been burned off.

His mother, Maggie Oten, who cooks at a Ninth Street restaurant, was not at home and the only witnesses were three very small children left in the boy's charge.

Neighbors who heard the screams found the child lying on the street. Dr. Woodard, who lives close by, reached the child in a short while and attended to his injuries, which he pronounced almost necessarily fatal. The burns extended all over the stomach, back, sides, face and neck of the boy. He was alive yesterday afternoon at three o'clock.

BROWN HELD

Fighting Out Their Differences in Court.

The examining trial of Phil H. Brown, colored, editor of the Morning News, was called in the County Court Thursday and concluded yesterday. Brown is charged by Rev. G. Cornelius Parker, a Methodist preacher of Lexington, with criminally libelling him.

Brown recently accused Parker of drunkenness and general conduct unbecoming the cloth. Brown testified that he [Parker] and one other negro preacher went to Parker's parsonage at Lexington, and with whiskey, purchased with the proceeds of a church collection, got very drunk. Various witnesses, including an Lexington saloonkeeper, were introduced to corroborate the colored editor's testimony.

The case was argued yesterday, the speeches occupying nearly all day. Judge Breathitt held Brown over under a bond of $100, which he gave.

DIDN'T GET IT.

Y. M. C. A. Could Not Get Up $8,000.

The attempt to raise $8,000 in 10 days for the Y. M. C. A. failed Thursday afternoon, only $2,700 being subscribed. It became evident early in the attempt that it was the wrong season to try to raise the money. The people were all too busy to talk to canvassers. Mr. Will A. House, who was in charge of the movement, said he would return at some future time and complete the work.

At Bethel College.

The young ladies of Bethel College gave a musical recitation at the college last night, which was followed by a reception by the young ladies.

Council Meeting.

The last regular meeting of the council for December was held last night.

The Omicron Club's annual dinner will be given at Hotel Latham the evening of Dec. 29th. Numerous entertainments are on the calendar for Christmas week.

Misses Annie Forbes and Louise Jones are home from school at Nashville.

LAST SURVIVOR PASSES AWAY

Patient in Western Asylum With Remarkable History.

CAME HERE IN 1854.

Born in Lexington Asylum and Was a State Patient 77 Years.

Lucy Darby, the last survivor of the 113 patients transferred from the Lexington asylum to the Western Asylum when it was opened, Nov. 21, 1854, died yesterday of old age, aged 77 years. She sustained a fracture of a hip bone years ago and had been bed-ridden ever since and totally blind. She was born in the Lexington asylum, her mother being a patient, and lived there all of her life until she came here when 25 years old. She was an idiot from birth, without a ray of intelligence. She cost the State during her long life more than $10,000 in per capita payments. She had no relatives and was buried at the institution. All of her life except the two or three days required to come from Lexington was spent within the walls of an asylum.

VIRGIL MATTHEWS

Dies in Nashville After Long Illness.

Mr. J. Virgil Matthews, formerly of this city, died at his home in Nashville a few days ago. He was at one time engaged in the tobacco business here and several years ago suffered a stroke of paralysis while at Trenton. He never fully recovered from the attack. Deceased was a native of Robertson county, Tennessee, and was about forty-five years old. He is survived by his widow, who was Miss Mattie Dillard, a daughter of the late Samuel Dillard, and two daughters.

New York Town

Newy Gossip of Gotham Doings by Our Correspondent—"Pat" Sheedy to Open Unique Gallery of Art—City to Have Music Central.

NEW YORK.—Patrick F. Sheedy, long of Chicago, who makes no pretense of being "art for art's sake," is about to realize the dream of a lifetime by opening a picture gallery on West Thirty-fourth street. One of the attractions of his gallery will be an assemblage of old and modern paintings collected by "Jack" Carr, who recently passed from this life at Copenhagen.

These works of art were supposed to have been acquired by their owner in an entirely informal manner. Many were picked up here and there at cut rate prices. One the Meyer von Bremen recently offered in this city, or quietly selected from private collections. There are a hundred or so of them, and the last one was obtained 28 years ago, according to Sheedy. They, however, have been kept from the public eye so long that questions of titles are not likely to be raised. The fact that such an artistic treasure trove existed in Europe was pointed out in a cable dispatch from Paris.

Sheedy has been in communication with the present owners and when they deliver the paintings in New York he will be able to make satisfactory arrangements for their disposition.

These canvases will not constitute the entire stock, for the famous painter which the noted amateur, who has become a professional, acquired from Rausch, the bandit, will also be on view. Two hundred other art works, some of them from the brushes of old masters and a few now innocent of varnish, will be displayed.

It was through the mediation of Sheedy that the famous Gainsborough of the duchess of Devonshire, which was stolen, was recovered in Chicago and returned to its owner.

TO SEND MUSIC BY TELEPHONE.

Within a few weeks New Yorkers will have the benefit of one of the most wonderful electrical inventions of the age—the telharmonium. This is an instrument for the transmission of music from a central keyboard to the homes, hotels, restaurants and public places of a city.

At a cost of more than $40,000 the central musical "plant" has been established at a convenient point in Manhattan. The instrument is virtually perfect and in a short time, it is expected, the company will be ready to offer its musical wares to the public. At no great cost the household, flat dweller or restaurant proprietor may have a telharmonium installed, connected by wire with the central instrument or instruments, and by simply pushing a button will be able to turn on the music. The instrument that will be placed in the homes is a small affair and can easily be hidden by a grouping of flowers or picture.

Four grades of music will be available—grand opera, pipe organ, orchestral or piano.

Tests thus far made show that the rich tones of the central instrument are preserved in transmission, and there is no marring of the music by the rasping sound of the phonograph. The inventor of the telharmonium and the capitalists who are backing him are confident that the instrument will not only have connections with thousands of homes here, but will soon be used almost universally by the restaurant keepers.

FEDERAL BUILDING CATS WELL CARED FOR.

The cats in the basement of the Federal building receive better treatment than any other such aggregation in New York. This is particularly true of Black Tom and his three cronies. Besides coming in for the best of fare from their guardian, old Barney, the watchman, the quartette has a feast twice a week on catnip, while it is in season. Every Tuesday and Friday he brings in a bundle of the herb from his country place in Long Island, or if he is staying in the city he has his gardener make a special trip to bring it in.

As regularly as these days come along Black Tom and his four pals drop in and stroll around. If there is any delay on the part of Taylor, the postmaster's colored man, to spread the feast, Mr. Wilcox is apprised of it by the four cats solemnly affixing his private office, taking up their station on his desk and gazing at him.

In addition to his cats have become used to drinking nothing but the soft, pure rain water which accumulates for their special benefit in a cistern on the roof. Barney discovered this taste of his pets by watching them trot out on the roof and eagerly lap up the water in the gutters after every rainfall. Stopping at nothing to keep the four in good humor he built a small cistern on the roof.

TINY BOY WINS FIGHT TO ENTER SCHOOL.

The happiest boy in New York is little Max Birenback, the seven-year-old son of Solomon Birenback, for he has been allowed to again take his place among his companions in school, who have long teased him for being too small to enter their classes.

Ever since the fall term opened Max has been trying his best to be admitted, but the teachers refused to let him stay in school.

In height he is only a little over two feet, while the teachers of the school gave a broad guess that he weighed only 17 pounds. His excuse was that they feared to step on him or that he would be injured by the larger children, and that he would drop through the floor like a crack, fall into an ink bottle or in some other way lose himself.

The boy's father put the matter before the board of education and a committee was appointed to visit the Birenback home the other evening.

"They say I weigh only 17 pounds," said he, "but that isn't so. Now look and see if you don't think I weigh more than that."

The visitors looked, but while it was evident Max had their sympathy it was also plain that they doubted too. "Well, settle the matter," said one of them, "by taking the boy to the grocery store downstairs and placing him on the scales."

Max led the way and nine anxious Birenbacks followed. The little fellow stepped on the scales and bore down with all his might. At exactly 33 pounds he tipped the bar. There was a shout of joy from the boy.

He decided the matter with the board members. They wrote a note to the Livingston street principal, ordering him to admit Max Birenback to school without delay.

CRUISER'S PLATE VANISHES BUT REAPPEARS.

Capt. Cowell, of the United States cruiser Denver, after the manner of all careful, if hospitable, hosts, did not neglect to count his spoons and his plate when the ball which his officers tendered Havana society Wednesday night, October 24, was drawing to a brilliant close. The result of this more or less perfunctory attention to a mere housekeeping detail was, to say the least, extraordinary.

The Denver was the first American man of war to reach Havana harbor at the height of the late unpleasantness, when the capital seemed on the verge of capture by the insurgents. Social amenities of various sorts followed, the culmination being the announcement of a ball on the Denver on the eve of the departure of the vessel for northern waters and the susceptible Cuban heart beat warmly in response.

At eight o'clock on the night set for the ball the cruiser was outlined in incandescent lights, with huge disk clusters over which the flags of all nations made a brilliant canopy.

Capt. Cowell was presented with a handsome gold watch in the name of the Cubans. Capt. Cowell expressed his deep gratitude and then spoke as follows:

"Some of the cups of the rich and artistic service given this boat on the day of its baptism by the citizens of Denver have disappeared. Of course, I know perfectly well that there has been no robbery committed, and that none of you are going to carry away in the pockets of your dress suits a cup smelling of champagne punch merely for the value of the same. I thoroughly appreciate that it has been merely the prompting of an artistic impulse, and a desire to retain a souvenir of the Denver, but I would be very obliged if the cups were returned."

Read Carefully Our Plan!

THE KENTUCKIAN will send to the Jamestown Exposition the four most popular young women in Christian County. The Kentuckian will pay every cent of expense, including railroad fare; Pullman fare; meals on train; hotel bills; street car fare; admission to grounds and amusement concessions; side trips to points in the vicinity of the Exposition grounds. The contest is open to any young lady making her home in Christian County. For each year's subscription to the Kentuckian at $2.00 the subscriber will be entitled to cast 40 votes.

Our contest begins Nov. 15th and will continue for 6 months; to May 15.

In order that all subscribers to the Kentuckian may have an interest in this contest, all subscribers on our books at the time of this announcement will be entitled to 20 votes each, which 20 votes may be placed to the credit of any one candidate—provided they are cast before January 1, 1907.

YOU choose the candidate—WE don't. The minute a vote is cast for a young woman she becomes a candidate and her name is placed upon the published list, together with the total vote cast for her up to the time the list is published.

When a subscription is received at this office the subscriber is first credited with the amount of his subscription and the number of votes his subscription represents is credited to the candidate named by him and entered in a special record book kept for the purpose. The vote will be COUNTED EVERY FRIDAY at noon and each candidate will be credited with her new vote and her vote to date and the result will be published in the next issue of the Kentuckian.

surprise. He had remembered the girl face that he had married, with its dainty smiles and dimples, and now he saw a face that was a picture of golden hair lying loosely over its white brow, and the rose-flush coming and going across the fair cheeks, but this was not the face that he knew before him now.

And the woman who had known sorrow, who had stood face to face with deep affliction, who had shed tears from her very heart, and prayed prayers for her inmost soul. The face was grey, beautiful, now, with its look of dignified repose, but it was strangely pathetic and old; but it was not the face of a laughing girl any longer—only the presentment of a woman, loving and loyal and strong.

CHRISTMAS TIDINGS.

Shoppers Have Bought Very Largely in Bad Weather.

AT THE CHURCHES.

What the Sunday Schools
Are to Do Next Week.

The rain during the week has put the country roads and streets in a terribly bad condition, but during Christmas-tide it is impossible to keep people from venturing forth to purchase things for their friends and loved ones. Might as well try to force a stream upward. The Christmas spirit is irresistible. Notwithstanding what the English people call "nasty" weather, the throngs of people who have come in on trains over the railroad, pulled through mud on every avenue leading into the city, as well as the old and young ladies of the city and everybody that has the spirit of the season in them, have been "making it lively" for all the merchants. As a result bank accounts of the larger and business men are happier.

The fine tobacco season has had a great deal to do with making business brisk. The weed was "in order" just at the right time for farmers to deliver their crops, and we believe contributed more towards making homes glad next Tuesday than anything else. It takes money to buy Christmas presents, and if it hadn't been for "tobacco money" where was the money to come from? There's no use in saying what "echo" would reply—everybody could not spend what they didn't have, because everybody's credit is not good. Tobacco did the business, and the $200,000 that has about been all turned loose by the different dealers has certainly been a boon to many a man who would have been shut off from making hearts happy had it not been for "tobacco money."

There is an old saying that "A pretty Christmas makes a fat graveyard," but a happy Christmas hurts nobody. Next week may be a "beaut," so far as the weather goes.

Old Boreas and Jack Frost may get on a "tear" if they want too. Nobody is going to mind it. The house will be full of fun, fire crackers, good things to eat, happy hearts will swell with gratitude and love, and bad weather won't mar the most joyful season of the year. Everybody will have gotten what he expected, and given what he expected, and more, and Christmas of 1906 will be one of the best for many, many years, and tobacco is "in it."

There are many reasons for believing that the stores and different business houses are making arrangements to close up early next Tuesday morning. That is because we are becoming more metropolitan in our ideas, for one reason. Another is that the Christian business men of Hopkinsville have kind hearts and want to see their salespeople take a day off and enjoy themselves. They know they need it. Men are getting better, no matter what the pessimists say. It hasn't been a very great many years since every business house kept open all day Christmas, not even allowing a clerk to go and see his "girl" at night. But how different now—many of them get the biggest part of the day, and the night, too.

The Sunday school children are not—never are—forgotten. Every church in the city is arranging for an entertainment of some kind for the little ones.

The Elks, liberally as the sun on a clear day, when everybody is blessed by this shining—have, during this week been systematically securing and enrolling the names of every poor person in the city who stands in need, and when the day of all days comes, wagons will be loaded with good things for them and delivered at their doors. They give because it is part of their creed—and the best of other orders can do no more.

The colleges are already about depopulated. The pupils have all gone to spend the season at home or with some friend. Books and music are forgotten and for a brief week they will have nothing of anything but the joys that only come with Christmas.

The city public schools turned the children loose Friday at noon. The faithful teachers, hard as they tried failed to get their pupils down to work Friday morning, as they were so filled with the Christmas spirit that they couldn't concentrate their minds on their studies. So they just turned them out until next Jan. 1.

At the Asylum a big Christmas dinner will be given to the patients. Fresh oysters and roast pork will be served, with addition of almost innumerable dishes. A suitable present will also be given to each of the unfortunates.

Christmas week is the time for the Forbes Manufacturing Co. to take an inventory. Many of the mechanics will lay off, but every department will be open. Enough men will be retained to supply all demands in every department and you can get anything you want.

BAPTIST CHURCH.

The Christmas entertainment of the Sunday School of the Baptist church will be given on Thursday night. The order of such occasions has been reversed, and every scholar will bring a gift in money or by classes, will be dressed as representatives of all the occupations of life. This feature, as well as the whole affair, will be highly enjoyable.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH.

Next Sunday morning all the children of the Sunday school will bring gifts for the orphans' home at Louisville and they will be forwarded next day and reach the home on Christmas day. Mr. Thos. W. Long, the superintendent of the school, has provided a big cake which will be cut and divided out among the children after Sunday school.

CUMBERLAND CHURCH.

Monday night the S. S. children of the Cumberland church will be given an entertainment at the church. The character of the entertainment had not been determined on yesterday afternoon.

NINTH STREET CHURCH.

At the Ninth Street Presbyterian church a Christmas tree will be prepared for the children. A feast of good things will also be one of the features of the evening.

METHODIST CHURCH.

The children of the Methodist church are to be entertained Monday night. A splendid program has been prepared, which includes recitations, a Christmas tree and a feast of good things to eat. The smaller children are on the regular program.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN.

The program for the children of the First Presbyterian church Monday night will consist of singing, recitations, etc., by the children and a social hour afterwards, when refreshments will be served.

GRACE CHURCH.

At 3 o'clock p. m. Monday memorial parish house of the Episcopal church will be opened and made comfortable for the Sunday school children. The pastor, officers and teachers of the Sunday school will be present and want the children to be there promptly to receive the presents that are to be distributed about 3 o'clock.

Christmas services at Grace church: Holy communion at 7:30 a. m.; morning prayer and sermon at 10:30 a. m.

UNIVERSALIST CHURCH.

Sunday morning, at the Universalist church, the children will be given a Christmas treat. This will take part of the S. S. hour. Fruits, nuts, candies, etc., will be given to every member of the school.

THIS IN KENTUCKY.

Prohibition Wave Has Almost Covered the State.

The drouth in Kentucky continues to spread, and there are now ninety-four totally "dry" counties out of a total of 119.

Two months ago there were eighty-two "dry" counties, but since then many precinct and county elections have been held to vote whether liquor should be sold or not. In these, twelve counties have gone "dry," and the only victory gained by the "wets" was to carry the towns of Cloverport, Middleboro and the portions of Nelson county.

There isn't a county in Kentucky that is totally "wet."

There are only four counties that are approximately saturated. These are Meade, Jefferson, Kenton and Campbell, all along the Ohio River in the northern part of the State. Todd county, on the southern border was "wet," but the "drys" captured it in their recent raid.

There are ninety-four counties without any saloons, nineteen with saloons at only one place, nine with saloons at two places, and six where liquor is sold at three or more points.

Liquor is sold in Christian county in four places, Hopkinsville, Pembroke, Crofton and Gracey.

Jewelry.

We have a complete line of Fobs, Vest chains, Charms, Cuff and Collar Buttons, Lockets, Necklaces, Crosses, Bracelets, Lace and Hat Pins, Plain Band and Set Rings. Our line of jewelry has just been added, hence everything is brand new and up-to-date.

AMUSEMENTS.

Billy Kersand's famous minstrels will be the attraction at Holland's Opera House next Tuesday night, Dec. 26.

This attraction has been greatly enlarged this season, no expense being spared to make it one of the leading minstrel shows of the present day. The company numbers 35 people, including Prof. James S. Lacy's Challenge Cornet Band of 20 pieces, the grand street pageant which takes place at 11:30 a. m. on the date of the performance being a revelation in itself. A band concert of choice selections will be rendered each evening at 7:30 o'clock in front of the theater. The first part setting used this season is one of the most novel, amazing and startling before the theatrical world to-day. It represents the inside of a mammoth watermelon. This beautiful setting was designed and produced by the Daniels Studio, of Chicago, Ill.

The gallery will be reserved exclusively for colored people.

"The Missouri Girl" with "Zeke" and "Daisy" and their fun-making associates will be seen at Holland's Opera House Jan. 4.

DIAMONDS FOR CHRISTMAS!

However true the statement that the purchase of diamonds is an investment, it is old and hackneyed.

We do not offer this as an inducement to buy our diamonds.

We offer something vastly more important, a sort of diamond insurance.

We offer an unequalled knowledge of our business, backed by years of study and experience, special buying facilities, and a sterling reputation for honesty and good taste. Come and see our Christmas display of fine Diamonds, Watches, Jewelry, etc., never larger and better.

PEMBROKE POULTRY SHOW

Will Be Held Three Days of Next Week, Beginning
Thursday.

HEIMLICH WILL JUDGE.

Stirring Little City Will Have Many Fine Rows
On Exhibition.

The Pembroke Poultry show for next week will be the big event of the holidays for that stirring little city. It will be the first exhibit by the Pembroke Poultry Association and the prospects are good for a successful show. The judging will be done by D. T. Heimlich, a noted poultry judge of Jacksonville, Ill. Mr. W. S. Dickinson is president and Mrs. L. R. Phillips secretary. It will begin on Dec. 27 and continue three days.

MAKING A SHORT CUT

NEW YORK DREDGING NEW CHANNEL FOR BIG SHIPS.

Millions Are Being Spent to Give a Quicker and Safer Route to Inner Harbor.

At a probable cost of $1,000,000 there is located at New York harbor a new channel which will reduce the distance ships will have to travel in passing in from the Atlantic Ocean to the harbor in East River.

In fact the work which has been done for years has progressed so rapidly that within a year it is expected that the thorough channel, as it is called, will be open to the traffic.

Coming and outgoing vessels, therefore, to our illustration, will at once make clear the advantage of the new channel over the old one.

The project for dredging the channel was adopted by the government in 1850. The total cost of which was estimated to be $4,000,000.

If we could put as much joy into our lives as a woman can start miscellaneous what-nots into her handbag, there would be lots more fun in living.

In one day twenty-seven women complained to an English police magistrate because their husbands had killed them. What those English women need is a well-stocked handbag, those bird cage affairs stuffed with hair that the women sometimes wear!
What they need is—well, if they should happen to have a new, bright yard and—I beg pardon, but perhaps you get the idea anyhow.

Billet-doux rhymes with "skidoo"
and when wife finds one in the breast pocket of her husband's best coat, it frequently ends that way.

It sometimes happens that the man who has taken all the spoils, must take the blame, too. To him that hath, etc.

I went fishing up in Wisconsin last spring and had "just a lovely time."
Besides catching a goodly string of fish, I made several observations of benefit to humanity. I noted that one species of fish sing. I hooked this peculiar fish just at daybreak the morning of my arrival. The hook took the mermaid and as it spun out upon the line, I caught the strains of a song that always delights the heart of the fisherman. It is needless to say that the fish was a bass. Therefore the singing fish is the bass. The bluefish does not sing but he is very melanccholy. The state fish is an awfully drunkard. The most scholarly fish is the trout with speckles. I live in Chicago, you know, and when I hooked a shark, I felt right at home. Why are some people like, and not like, the goldfish? There is plenty of fish about them but no gold. The last day
I caught a fatfish. This reminded me that I pay $50 per for my fat in the city and I came home forthwith for fear I wouldn't get my money's worth.
This is all I know about fish, except that they never bite when you take your friend to the same resort where you have caught lunkers for years.
Well, I've got to dive for my train,
now. Good-by.

More bed covers have the call these nights.

A Pennsylvania section hand sent his overalls to a Chinese laundry.
They went through the wash all right, but when the "chink" started in to iron the bifurcated toga, he accidentally struck a railroad torpedo. Instead of changing the Chinese he started singing a mad rye down the track.
At last reports he was headed for New York unamplified of grass and open bridges.

A friend of mine who evidently has been reading some of my stuff, says
the prize sentence for ungrammaticality is that of the boy who beamed over the fence and asked of the shepherd, "Be them sheeps yearn!"
He says every word is "incorrect." It was raised in the country and it seems all right to me, but maybe he knows.

Some women are never out of temper. They have it to give away all the time.

A friend of mine got out of a pretty tight place yesterday evening by a quick witted reply. His wife found a strange hair on his coat and asked him where he got it. He replied, wistfully, "From the head of the bed,
dear."

The woman who can, and does, peek at the last chapter of the book she is reading to discover the final outcome, must suffer terribly because she cannot find out whether it is going to be a boy or a girl.

The man who has been chasing his straw hat all summer must now be content with losing his gloves—and this hat's half as much fun for the observing public.

A Rhode Island man sold his wife for $200. Some men are born lucky.

XMAS IN PRISON.

Ladies And Gentlemen Going Down to Play Santa Claus.

Representatives from the three different Endeavor societies of the city, as well as from other churches, are arranging to go to Eddyville Christmas day and play Santa Claus. A large number of suitable Christmas gifts have been collected and will be taken down and distributed among the prisoners. The gifts this year from merchants are greater than at any previous time and there is greater local interest in the work among the unfortunates than ever before. Anyone having anything to send down to the prisoners can communicate with Miss Lucy Starling, Superintendent of Kentucky prison work. If not too heavy, packages will be carried down by the ladies and gentlemen who have decided to spend the greatest day of the year in prison with the unfortunates.

BOTH GAMES

Won By South Kentucky College Team.

The two games of basket ball at the Gymnasium of South Kentucky College Thursday night were both won by the College teams. The first between S. K. C. No. 1 and Co. D. was won by a score of 37 to 7. The second between S. K. C. No. 2 and the Pennville Club was won by a score of 10 to 3.

PERSONAL GOSSIP.

Mr. H. F. McCutcheon, of Russellville, was in the city Thursday.

Mr. M. L. Ebb visited Louisville this week.

Miss Hazel Roper has returned from a visit to Providence.

Prof. C. H. Dietrich will come home tonight to spend the Christmas holidays.

Mr. John M. Wick, of Dayton, Ohio, is here for a few days visiting his father.

Mr. Milton Gant, of Owensboro, spent a few days in the city this week on business.

Mr. G. H. Warnekin, a prominent tobaccoist of Clarksville, was in the city yesterday.

Mrs. Albert Cohen and daughters, of Brownsville, Tenn., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Moses L. Elle.

Mr. Frank A. Lucas, of Paducah, was here yesterday, enroute to Glasgow, where he will spend the Christmas.

Mr. James Nourse is at home from Central University spending the holidays with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. W. L. Nourse.

Rev. Ben F. Lawhern, after a stay of a week or more in Florida, and attending the annual conference of the Methodist church at Palatka, returned to the city last Friday.

Mrs. Tom Torian and Mrs. Charlie Vaughan and their two little daughters left this morning for Owensboro to spend the holidays with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Shackelford.

Chief of Police Robinson, Fire Chief Tilley and Assistant Fire Chief Metcalfe, of Clarksville, were in the city Thursday night to attend the policemen-firemen's banquet. Mr. Metcalfe is a Christian county boy, who was always known over here as "Boy" Metcalfe, but we believe they call him "Dave" ever there. He has been a member of the Clarksville fire department for a number of years and we venture to say if that city had a few more "Boys" who were members of its department it would not be sorry of it.
